

Break free TODAY

Overactive Bladder (OAB) is the sudden uncontrollable urge to go to the bathroom, usually along with these other symptoms:

Leakage of urine • Frequent need to urinate • Awakening from sleep to urinate

(Coyne K 2008; Sand P. 2006; Muller N 2010)

As many as 80% of women NEVER SEEK care for this condition.

(Harris Interactive 2003)

NEARLY 20 MILLION WOMEN in the U.S. are affected by overactive bladder

(US Census Data, 2008; Verbugge 1996)

More than HALF believe that there are NO EFFECTIVE OAB treatments.

(Marshall-Kehrel 2006)

Overactive bladder is one of the most common chronic conditions affecting women.

(US Census 2008; CDC 2008)

Break free
TODAY

For more information about OAB, visit www.voicesforpfd.org/BreakFree.

MSD Consumer Care, Inc, a subsidiary of Merck & Co., Inc has paid for the overactive bladder portion of this program to be developed and provided to you and has provided editorial input on this program.

Please share, credit www.voicesforpfd.org/BreakFree.

 Take the Floor: Voices for PFD
 @TakeTheFloorPFD